October 9: Geopolitical Easing

Quiet session with little market reaction to Gaza ceasefire agreement; Takaichi says no plans for excessively weakening JPY; hawkish ECB minutes; dovish Banxico minutes; surprise 25bp cut in the Philippines; US confirms $20bn Argentina swap line; DXY at 99.538 (+0.6%); US 10y at 4.138 (+2.1bp).

The dollar strengthens in a quiet session for DM rates, while geopolitical developments drive moves in EM.

Developed Markets

- In the absence of economic data, US yields drift higher amid a decent 30y auction and cautious Fedspeak. Treasuries cheapen through the morning in a mild concession ahead of the $22bn 30y bond re-opening, which tails by 0.4bp on slightly weak demand, though with the lowest-ever allocation to primary dealers at 8.7%. Yields remain elevated as Fed Governor Barr calls for caution toward further rate cuts, highlighting "significant" upside risks to inflation.
- The dollar strengthens (DXY: +0.6%) on weak risk sentiment, which sees equities (S&P 500: -0.3%) and risk-sensitive currencies selling off (GBP/USD: -0.8%; NZD/USD: -0.7%). AUD/NZD strengthens 0.3% after Australia's consumer inflation expectations rose in September. NOK comes under pressure (USD/NOK: +0.9%) from falling oil prices (Brent: -1.5%), potentially supported by easing geopolitical tensions in the Middle East as a Gaza ceasefire agreement is signed. Gold gives back some of its recent rally, falling 1.6% to below $4,000/oz.
- European rates sell off 1-3bp as minutes from the ECB's September meeting convey a hawkish tone, enhancing expectations for tighter monetary policy. In France, the long end remains well-supported (30y OAT: 0bp) as President Macron seeks a new prime minister, as opposed to calling snap elections. Accordingly, the OAT-Bund spread tightens by 1.5bp. However, EUR weakens another 0.6% against USD, falling below the 1.16 threshold.
- Japanese rates twist-steepen (5y: -1bp; 30y: +2bp) in a quiet Tokyo session, while JPY strengthens in the New York session on the back of statements from LDP leader Takaichi. Front-end JGBs richen in the Tokyo morning despite the afternoon's 5y auction, which ultimately comes in slightly weaker than expected with a cut-off price of 100.25 (C: 100.3). Meanwhile, the long end sells off in a slight reversal of Wednesday's relief rally. In the New York morning, JPY strengthens 0.3% against USD after newly elected LDP leader Takaichi states that she has no intention of pursuing an excessively weak JPY, though she prefers that the BoJ's monetary policy decisions align with government goals.

Emerging Markets

- In AxJ, Philippine rates rally (10y RPGB: -6bp) after BSP delivers a surprise 25bp rate cut to 4.75%, despite consensus expecting BSP to remain on hold. PHP underperforms regional peers (USD/PHP: -0.5%). In Thailand, THB also underperforms, weakening 0.2% alongside gold prices. Thai rates extend their recent sell off by 3-5bp after BoT reiterates an accommodative policy path through 2026, and Finance Minister Ekniti announces plans to spend THB10bn to purchase bad household debt.
- In China, CNH gains 0.3% against USD in the first trading session since September 30 amid trade developments and a lower-than-expected USD/CNY fixing (7.1102; C: 7.1458). Local rates rally, with CNY NDIRS yields falling 2bp following reports of lackluster Golden Week holiday spending. Meanwhile, China expands its export controls on rare earths, with the new rules slated to take effect on December 1, after President Xi and US President Trump's planned meeting at the end of October. In the New York session, President Trump suggests a potential US response, but emphasizes that he is not yet familiar with the details.
- In CEEMEA, Hungarian rates bear-flatten (2y: +2bp) after Deputy Governor Kurali affirms that the NBH intends to fulfill its legal mandate amid recent comments from government officials suggesting lower rates. The curve also bear-steepens in Turkey (10y: +5bp) following an upside surprise in August industrial production (7.1% y/y; P: 5.2%). Meanwhile, South African rates rally ~2bp across the curve amid weaker-than-expected manufacturing data (-1.5% y/y; C: -0.4%).
- LatAm markets sees mixed performance, with Mexican rates rallying after Banxico's meeting minutes from September strike a dovish tone, reinforcing expectations for gradual easing. In Brazil, rates also outperform as Brazilian and US officials agree to meet to discuss trade. The Brazilian DI curve's belly tenors fall ~9bps despite a slightly high September inflation print (0.6% m/m; C: 0.5%). Meanwhile, Colombian rates underperform the region, rising across the curve amid persistent local risk premium and softer oil prices.
- Argentina sees a sharp rally after the US Treasury confirms a $20bn currency swap line and directly purchases ARS. Accordingly, USD/ARS declines 0.7%, while ARGENT'35 rises 5 cash points and local equities rally (MERVAL: +5.8%). However, details of when and how Argentina can draw upon the swap line remain unclear. Argentine President Milei and President Trump will meet on October 14 ahead of Argentina's elections on October 26.

Central Bank Monitor

Developed Markets

- New York Fed President Williams stated in a media interview that he supports further interest rate cuts this year, suggesting that downside risks to the labor market outweigh upside risks to inflation.
- Fed Governor Barr emphasized caution toward further rate cuts, warning that while the job market may benefit from a rate cut, inflation risks remain. He noted that household balance sheets are stable and there is no credit-fueled boom. He stated that services inflation has leveled off, and the long-term neutral rate has edged up slightly due to productivity gains from generative AI. Fed Chair Powell and Vice Chair for Supervision Bowman also spoke at the event but did not address monetary policy.

- BoE MPC Member Mann reiterated that "monetary policy must remain restrictive for longer" in order to bring inflation back to the 2% target in the medium term.
- BoE External Member Greene writes that central banks should better understand the impact of supply shocks.

Emerging Markets

- In the Philippines, BSP lowered its policy rate by 25bp to 4.75% (MSe: 4.75%; C: 5.00%; P: 5.00%), in line with our economists' expectations but against the consensus. BSP sees scope for a more accommodative monetary policy stance, as inflation expectations remain well-anchored while the outlook for domestic growth has weakened. BSP kept its 2025 inflation forecast at 1.7% but revised estimates for 2026 and 2027 down to 3.1% (P: 3.3%) and 2.8% (P: 3.4%), respectively.
- BSP Governor Remolona highlighted "more wiggle room than before on interest rate cuts." The central bank now believes the "Goldilocks" rate could be below 5%, adding that one more rate cut is possible in 2025. He emphasized that the central bank will defend PHP when the depreciation is sharp or large enough to become inflationary. He added that imposing capital controls is "not out of the question", but the central bank would rather not.
- In Mexico, Banxico September Monetary Policy Meeting Minutes revealed a strong dovish tone, with most members backing gradual easing amid soft growth and favorable inflation dynamics. Several emphasized that recent price movements reflect relative adjustments rather than broad pressures, reinforcing the case for further cuts. Notably, the Board discussed a terminal rate of roughly 6.50% nominal, suggesting it may settle below the midpoint of the neutral range. Fed easing and peso strength were seen as providing room to cut without destabilizing inflation expectations or FX. One member remained hawkish, citing persistent core inflation risks and concerns about policy transmission.
- In Thailand, BoT Deputy Governor Piti said monetary policy will remain accommodative through 2026 as the central bank expects growth to stay below potential and inflation below target for the whole year. He noted that moving rates by 25bp in either direction does not make a huge difference long-term, but maintaining a policy buffer is important. He sees multiple potential shocks, including trade uncertainties, record-high debt levels, possible ratings downgrades for Thailand, and the election cycle starting early next year. Piti highlighted that gold is becoming a bigger amplifier than normal for THB, adding that there are options on the shelf to address this.
- In Poland, NBP Governor Glapinski mentioned that the policy rate can move towards 4% if inflation "stays like this" during a press conference following the NBP's decision to cut rates by 25bp on Wednesday.

- In Hungary, NBH Deputy Governor Kurali stated that "it's in no one's interest to have a public debate" on the monetary policy, and the NBH will act to fulfill its "legally mandated aims." His statement follows recent suggestions from Hungarian officials that the NBH lower interest rates.
- In South Africa, SARB Governor Kganyago said that there is no disagreement between the SARB and the National Treasury regarding his decision to anchor inflation to the bottom of the 3-6% target range. He added that inflation remains relatively contained, despite some expected short-term overshoots.

The Day Ahead

Developed Markets

- 7:00am BST - Sweden August Monthly GDP Indicator (MSe: 0.3% m/m; P: -

0.2%). We expect a slow pickup driven by household spending, supported by strong retail sales (1.0% m/m), while exports remain a drag

- 7:00am BST - Norway September CPI (MSe: 3.5% y/y; P: 3.5%). We expect energy inflation to be flat but elevated at 26% y/y
- 7:00am BST - Norway September CPI-ATE (MSe: 3.0% y/y; C: 3.1%; P: 3.1%). We expect food prices to decline, contributing to a drop in CPI-ATE
- 9:00am BST - Italy August Industrial Production (MSe: -0.5%; C: -0.2%; P: 0.4%)
- ECB Vice President de Guindos will participate in an Economic and Financial Affairs Council (ECOFIN) meeting in Luxembourg
- 8:30am ET - Canada September Net Change in Employment (C: 5.0k; P: -65.5k)
- 8:30am ET - Canada September Unemployment Rate (C: 7.2%; P: 7.1%)
- 10:00am EST - US October University of Michigan Sentiment (C: 54; P: 55.1) & 5-10 Yr Inflation Expectations (C: 3.7%; P: 3.7%). Consumer sentiment fell to its lowest level since May in September, led by a decline in expectations. 5-10 year inflation expectations have retreated from their highs of 4.4% after Liberation Day, but they have been on the rise again since July, reaching 3.7% in September.
- 1:00pm EST - St. Louis Fed President Musalem will speak at the Springfield Chamber of Commerce

Emerging Markets

- 12:00pm HKT - Malaysia August Industrial Production (C: 3.4% y/y; P: 4.2%)

Economic Releases

Developed Markets

- Germany August Trade Balance: €17.2bn (MSe: €14.5; C: €15.5; P: €14.8)
- New Zealand September BusinessNZ Manufacturing PMI: 49.9 (P: 49.9)

Emerging Markets

- Taiwan September Trade Balance: $12.4bn (MSe: $16.4bn; C: $16.3bn; P: $16.8bn); Exports: 33.8% y/y (MSe: 43.3%; C: 38.8%; P: 34.1%) & Imports: 25.1% y/y (MSe: 24.5%; C: 22.5%; P: 29.5%)
- Turkey August Industrial Production: 7.1% y/y (P: 5.2%)
- South Africa August Manufacturing Production: -1.5% y/y (C: -0.4%; P: -1.3%)
- Brazil September IPCA: 0.63% m/m (Mse: 0.51%; P: -0.11%; C: 0.52%). Inflation came in above both our economists' forecast and consensus, marking a sharp acceleration from August's print. The upside surprise stemmed from the expiration of a temporary energy credit, which drove electricity costs higher. Meanwhile, concerns that President Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva could increase state spending to boost popularity ahead of next year's election add uncertainty to the inflation outlook, likely reducing the scope for near-term rate cuts. Markets are currently pricing in only ~1.5 bp of cuts this year, but ~180 bps of cuts for 2026 through 2027, with a terminal rate of ~12.73% by mid-2027.

- Mexico 2H/September CPI: 0.02% y/y (P: 0.18%; C: 0.08%). Softer-than-expected bi-weekly CPI may support further positive momentum in rates. The print was driven by declines in food and health components, while housing and other services provided modest upward pressure. Markets are currently pricing in ~70 bps of cuts and a terminal rate of 6.80% at the end of 2026.

Trading Strategy 1 – "Trade Longs/Fade Shorts"

When the 5-day moving average crosses above the 20-day moving average, buy the futures contract (long duration) and hold for a 25-business-day period. When the 5-day moving average crosses below the 20-day moving average, buy the futures contract and hold for a 25-business-day period. In short, this strategy buys futures when the Simple Moving Average Crossover (SMAX) generates both a long and a short signal, given the historical outperformance of long signals traded long and the underperformance of short signals traded short. Given that the SMAX could generate both a long and a short signal within the predefined holding period, an investor may have a 200% long position since each of the two signals would be traded in separate portfolio sleeves.

Trading Strategy 2 – Trade "Longs Only"

When the 5-day moving average crosses above the 20-day moving average, buy the futures contract (long duration) and hold for a 25-business-day period. When the 5-day moving average crosses below the 20-day moving average, do nothing. In short, an investor only trades long signals initiated by the SMAX given their historical precedent to outperform.

STOCK RATINGS

Morgan Stanley uses a relative rating system using terms such as Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated or Underweight (see definitions below). Morgan Stanley does not assign ratings of Buy, Hold or Sell to the stocks we cover. Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated and Underweight are not the equivalent of buy, hold and sell. Investors should carefully read the definitions of all ratings used in Morgan Stanley Research. In addition, since Morgan Stanley Research contains more complete information concerning the analyst's views, investors should carefully read Morgan Stanley Research, in its entirety, and not infer the contents from the rating alone. In any case, ratings (or research) should not be used or relied upon as investment advice. An investor's decision to buy or sell a stock should depend on individual circumstances (such as the investor's existing holdings) and other considerations.

Global Stock Ratings Distribution

(as of September 30, 2025)

The Stock Ratings described below apply to Morgan Stanley's Fundamental Equity Research and do not apply to Debt Research produced by the Firm.

For disclosure purposes only (in accordance with FINRA requirements), we include the category headings of Buy, Hold, and Sell alongside our ratings of Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated and Underweight. Morgan Stanley does not assign ratings of Buy, Hold or Sell to the stocks we cover. Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated and Underweight are not the equivalent of buy, hold, and sell but represent recommended relative weightings (see definitions below). To satisfy regulatory requirements, we correspond Overweight, our most positive stock rating, with a buy recommendation; we correspond Equal-weight and Not-Rated to hold and Underweight to sell recommendations, respectively.

Stock Rating Category	Coverage Universe		Investment Banking Clients (IBC)			Other Material Investment Services Clients (MISC)
	Count	% of Total	Count	% of Total IBC	% of Rating Category	Count	% of Total Other MISC
Overweight/Buy	1499	41%	389	46%	26%	702	41%
Equal-weight/Hold	1618	44%	375	44%	23%	782	45%
Not-Rated/Hold	4	0%	1	0%	25%	1	0%
Underweight/Sell	577	16%	88	10%	15%	234	14%
Total	3,698		853			1719

Data include common stock and ADRs currently assigned ratings. Investment Banking Clients are companies from whom Morgan Stanley received investment banking compensation in the last 12 months. Due to rounding off of decimals, the percentages provided in the "% of total" column may not add up to exactly 100 percent.

Analyst Stock Ratings

Overweight (O or Over) - The stock's total return is expected to exceed the total return of the relevant country MSCI Index or the average total return of the analyst's industry (or industry team's) coverage universe, on a risk-adjusted basis over the next 12-18 months.

Equal-weight (E or Equal) - The stock's total return is expected to be in line with the total return of the relevant country MSCI Index or the average total return of the analyst's industry (or industry team's) coverage universe, on a risk-adjusted basis over the next 12-18 months.

Not-Rated (NR) - Currently the analyst does not have adequate conviction about the stock's total return relative to the relevant country MSCI Index or the average total return of the analyst's industry (or industry team's) coverage universe, on a risk-adjusted basis, over the next 12-18 months.

Underweight (U or Under) - The stock's total return is expected to be below the total return of the relevant country MSCI Index or the average total return of the analyst's industry (or industry team's) coverage universe, on a risk-adjusted basis, over the next 12-18 months.

Unless otherwise specified, the time frame for price targets included in Morgan Stanley Research is 12 to 18 months.
